Information that we obtain from third party sources

We may also receive personal information about you from third party sources, but only where we have checked that these third parties are legally permitted or required to disclose your personal information to us.

In particular, we are likely to receive personal information about you from the following types of organisation who may have been assisting you:

- dealers, suppliers, manufacturers who will supply you with equipment you have chosen to finance using our products and services and who may advise you on our services, discuss your finance requirements and recommend specific equipment to you;
- dealers, suppliers, manufacturers who will only supply you with equipment and who may introduce you to us to discuss your finance requirements;
- brokers, who may discuss your finance requirements with you and advise you on our products and services and who will execute any financial arrangements that you have chosen to enter into, using our products and services.
- our group companies who you may have a relationship with and who may introduce you to us to discuss your finance requirements.

- compliance and risk solution providers who may help us to identify and manage financial, regulatory and reputational risk and who may assist us in making decisions about suitability, capacity and affordability.

In each instance, we obtain your personal information from these organisations in order to allow us to provide you with any products and services that you have requested from us and it is necessary for us to process your personal information to enter into and perform our obligations under our agreement with you.

We will also receive personal information about you from Credit Reference Agencies (CRAs) and Fraud Prevention Agencies (FPAs), in particular information on your previous financial and credit applications, any current finance and credit agreements and your management of those finance and credit agreements. This may include details of the products and services you have applied for, those lenders, finance and credit organisations with whom you have (and have had) an agreement with, the amounts advanced, the amount and frequency of repayments and whether you have made your repayments on time and in full. This will help us make the best possible assessment of your financial situation before we decide whether we can provide you with our products and services and it is in our legitimate interests to process your personal information for this purpose.

CRAs and FPAs obtain information about any county court judgments, bankruptcy and other similar orders relating to you from publicly accessible sources such as the electoral register, and from your previous applications to banks, building societies, credit card companies and from the conduct of any accounts you have held. For more information about the use of your personal data by CRAs and FPAs, please refer to the Credit Reference Agency Information Notice (CRAIN) which can be found at <http://www.experian.co.uk/crain/index.html>.

The Information Commissioner's Office also publishes advice and information for consumers in its 'Credit Explained' leaflet, available at <https://ico.org.uk/media/for-the-public/documents/1282/credit-explained-dp-guidance.pdf>

WHEN WE RECORD COMMUNICATIONS

We, and persons acting on our behalf, may record and/or monitor communications (including telephone conversations over landlines and mobile phones, emails, fax and other electronic communications) between you and us, and between you and our employees, agents, consultants, contractors or other personnel and other people (such as employees of our clients). We only do this to the extent permitted by applicable law for legitimate business purposes or other purposes permitted by law. We collect your personal information for the following purposes:

 - to assist us in enforcing our rights under our finance agreement with you, if we need to;
 - to assist us with complaints handling (if applicable); and

- we may also share information about our relationship with you (for example, that your current finance agreement is coming to an end and you may be interested in hearing about a new finance product that we can offer to you in conjunction with offers these third parties may have available).
- to our Insurer and our Insurance administrator
 - to enable us to manage and administer our assets on finance with you, and to assist us in enforcing our rights under the finance agreement in respect of those asset, if we need to.
- to brokers,
 - to assist you with complaints, queries or settlement quotes; and
 - to enable us to manage and administer our finance agreement with you, and to assist us in enforcing our rights under the agreement, if we need to.
- to a prospective buyer (and its agents and advisers) in the event we intend to sell any part of our business or its assets or if substantially all of our assets are acquired by a third party, in which case your personal information could form part of one of the assets we sell, provided that we inform the buyer it must use your personal information only for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy;
- to any national and/or international regulatory, enforcement body, government agency or court where we believe disclosure is necessary (i) as a matter of applicable law or regulation (including where we are required by law to provide information to organisations such as HMRC), (ii) to exercise, establish or defend our legal rights, or (iii) to protect your vital interests or those of any other person; and
- to any other person where you have consented to the disclosure or where we are permitted to do so by law.

LEGAL BASIS FOR PROCESSING PERSONAL INFORMATION

Our legal basis for collecting and using your personal information will depend on the personal information concerned and the specific context in which we collect it. In respect of the personal information and the purposes for which we may process your personal information which are set out in this Privacy Policy, we have confirmed the legal basis upon which we collect and process your personal information.

If we ask you to provide personal information to comply with a legal requirement or to perform a contract with you, we will make this clear at the relevant time and advise you whether the provision of your personal information is mandatory or not (as well as of the possible consequences if you do not provide your personal information).

Similarly, if we collect and use your personal information in reliance on our legitimate interests (or those of any third party), we will make clear to you at the relevant time what those legitimate interests are.

If you have questions about or need further information concerning the legal basis on which we collect and use your personal information, please contact us using the contact details provided under the "How to contact us" heading below.

INTERNATIONAL DATA TRANSFERS

We store your personal data on our servers located in the UK.

We also use service providers who are located outside the European Economic Area to process your personal to provide services to us. Where we transfer your personal data to an organisation in a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will implement appropriate safeguards so that your personal data is protected in accordance with this Privacy Policy. These may include implementing the European Commission's standard contractual clauses or ensuring that the country or territory has an adequacy decision from the European Commission or other appropriate safeguards referred to in the EU GDPR or the UK GDPR, as appropriate. We may also disclose personal data, upon request, to the official bodies and administrative or judicial authorities of a country, located within or outside the EEA, particularly in the context of the fight against money laundering and terrorist financing. If you would like more information about the safeguards we have in place, please get in touch with us using the details in the 'How to Contact Us' section below.

YOUR DATA PROTECTION RIGHTS

You have the following data protection rights:

- If you wish to access, correct, update or request deletion of your personal information, you can do so at any time by contacting us using the contact details provided under the "How to contact us" heading below.
- In addition, you can object to processing of your personal information, ask us to restrict processing of your personal information or request portability of your personal information. Again, you can exercise these rights by contacting us using the contact details provided under the "How to contact us" heading below.
- You have the right to opt-out of marketing communications we send to you at any time. We will explain how you can exercise this right, in the marketing emails that we send to you. To opt-out of other forms of marketing (such as postal marketing or telemarketing), then please contact us using the contact details provided under the "How to contact us" heading below.
- Similarly, if we have collected and processed your personal information with your consent, then you can withdraw your consent at any time. Withdrawing your consent will not affect the lawfulness of any processing we conducted prior to your withdrawal, nor will it affect processing of your personal information conducted in reliance on lawful processing grounds other than consent.

- You have the right to complain to a data protection authority about our collection and use of your personal information. For more information, please contact your local data protection authority:

The Information Commissioner's Office

Website: <https://ico.org.uk>

We respond to all requests we receive from individuals wishing to exercise their data protection rights in accordance with applicable data protection laws.

AUTOMATED DECISIONS

We may have used an automated credit decision system to assess your application for finance, and where this is the case, this means that our decision on whether or not to approve your application for finance is made automatically on the basis of a computer determination which uses software algorithms without manual review by our staff. We have implemented measures to safeguard your rights and interests when we use our credit decision including the right to manual intervention or review or to have your concerns heard and investigated if required. If your application for finance is declined, you can ask to have the decision manually reviewed by us by getting in touch with us using the details in the 'How to Contact Us' section below.

DATA RETENTION

We retain personal information we collect from you where we have an ongoing legitimate need to do so (for example, to provide you with a product or service you have requested us to provide or to comply with applicable legal, tax or accounting requirements).

When we have no ongoing legitimate need to process your personal information, we will either delete or anonymise it or, if this is not possible (for example, because your personal information has been stored in backup archives), then we will securely store your personal information and isolate it from any further processing until deletion is possible.

OUR COMMITMENT TO PROTECT AND MAINTAIN THE SECURITY OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

As a member of a responsible banking Group, we are committed to protect and maintain the security of your personal information against any unauthorised attempt to use it, or disclose it, and against any disclosure that does not comply with our data protection commitments or applicable data protection law.

The protection and responsible use of all personal data is central to our activities. We have policies, procedures and tools in place to rigorously secure our operations and information systems.

UPDATES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

We may change or update this Privacy Policy in order to maintain our compliance with applicable law and regulation or following an update to our internal practices. When we update our Privacy Policy, we will take appropriate measures to inform you, consistent with the significance of the changes we make.
